Dear Christine,

I would like to thank you for the Stress Management session you delivered for the Hodges Real Estate group.

The entire group enjoyed the session. They found it very informative and a number of our employees have continued on with the breathing exercises.

Your knowledge and delivery was excellent. You made what is a difficult subject to understand (cellular make up and density) into an easy to understand, diagrammatical session, which was informative and of great value to the attendees.

I look forward to another session before the year is out.

Regards
